TOMB OF THE UNKNOWN SOLDIER

They shall grow not old,
as we that are left grow old.
Age shall not weary them,
nor the years condemn.
At the going down of the sun,
and in the morning,
We will remember them.

Jacqui Tirschmann, my wife, and I are adding a picture of Jacqui's Dad John C Williams and his wife Doris Marjorie from their Wedding Picture and a picture of his Military Medals that we see everyday several times a day on our passage past our fireplace.

I can never forget Dad telling me the story of how he travelled throughout many of the World War II front line battles, England, France, Italy, and Germany. Dad was a Motorcycle Dispatch Messenger. He told me the story when he and a fellow Army Buddy were in a fox hole together. His Buddy stretched up to peek out of the fox hole. He received a bullet in the head, a kill shot. There but by the grace of God it could have been Dad. We were so fortunate after the war he came home safe to his family. I am sure every time we see his medals we are thankful for his Service.
